Andrew Alexander's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation, manufacturing and supply chain disputes, antitrust and competition law, and anti-corruption law regimes. He also has experience in trademark and copyright litigation, government and internal investigations, campaign finance law, and First Amendment law. He represents clients from across many industries, including healthcare, food manufacturing, agriculture, public advocacy, and software.

Before joining Graves Garrett, Andrew was an attorney in private practice focusing on complex commercial litigation with experience in intellectual property, unfair competition, antitrust, shareholder litigation, and commercial contracts. He began his legal career as a judicial clerk to the Hon. J. Thomas Marten, then-Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the District of Kansas. During law school, he interned for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Missouri in the Fraud and Corruption Unit and for the Hon. Fernando J. Gaitan Jr., then Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Missouri.

Andrew has two decades of volunteer service in ministry and community music events. He is an avid motorcyclist, master motorcycle technician, musician, instrument-rated pilot, and automobile endurance roadracer. He also has experience in web programming, farming, and lutherie.
